THE dismission of Colonel Hancock from the command of the Cadets, with the dissolution of the corps consequent thereon, having occasioned much speculation and many imperfect accounts; in order to prevent further misrepresentation, you are desired to insert the following, which may be depended on.

Your humble servant,

DUNCAN INGRAHAM, jun. Clerk.

By order of the Company.

At a regular meeting on Monday evening, the 15th of August, 1774, Colonel Hancock laid before the company the following letter, which he had received from Mr. secretary Flucker, viz.

SIR, SALEM, August 1, 1774.

I AM directed by his Excellency the Captain General to acquaint you, that he has no further service for you as Captain of the Governor's Company of Cadets, and you are hereby dismissed from that command.

I am, Sir, your most humble servant,

THOMAS FLUCKER, Secretary.

The Colonel, after taking a polite and affectionate leave, retired. The company then chose a chairman and clerk, and, after mature deliberation, the company voted, nem. con. to return his Excellency the standard, with the following message, by a committee of three.

BOSTON, August 15, 1774.

To his Excellency THOMAS GAGE, Esq; Captain General and Commander in chief of his Majesty's province of Massachusetts Bay.

May it please your Excellency,

IT having been this day communicated to us, in a regular meeting, that your Excellency has thought fit to displace the Hon. John Hancock, Esq; from his command as Captain of the Cadet company, they take the earliest opportunity to express their extreme regret at this removal of their first officer; and considering the distinction with which they have hitherto been favoured in the choice and continuation of their officers, they look on this dismission as disbanding the corps.—They have therefore judged proper to return your Excellency the standard you presented to the company upon your taking the chair of government, and at the same time, take the liberty to inform your Excellency, that from the day of the removal of Col. Hancock from his command, they no longer consider themselves as the Governor's Independent company of Cadets.

DUNCAN INGRAHAM, jun. Clerk.

Per order of the company.

The committee accordingly waited on the Governor the next day at Salem, and delivered the message with the standard, and received from his Excellency this verbal answer, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

COLONEL HANCOCK has used me ill, and has not treated me with that respect that is due to the Governor of the province; therefore I dismiss'd him! I will not be treated ill by Col. Hancock, nor any other man in the province.——Had I known your intentions, I would have dismissed you before.

Gentlemen, I accept the standard.

Attest. GABRIEL JOHONNOT,

Chairman of the committee.

Extract of a letter from Taunton, August 24, 1774.

"Last Monday afternoon, about 500 of the inhabitants of this and the adjacent towns assembled on the parade near the Court-house, in order to signify the disquietude of their minds on hearing the alarming news, that Daniel Leonard, Esq; who was lately in an unconstitutional manner appointed one of the Council for this province, had accepted and was sworn into that office; but the sudden disappearance of that gentleman, prevented the friendly cautions intended by his kind and honest, though incensed neighbours: There was not the least disorder or appearance of violence in any of the assembly; but after a modest declaration of their sentiments relative to some late ministerial manœuvres, and having received some pacific promises from certain friends of the said counsellor, they all decently withdrew."—

Extract of another letter from Taunton, dated Aug. 25.

"We hear that Brigadier Ruggles, one of the new made Counsellors, being at Col. Toby's at Darthmouth, the people assembled there one day this week, and ordered him to depart forthwith; upon which the Colonel promised them he would go the next morning by sun an hour high; but before that time the Brigadier's horse had his mane and tail cut off, and his body painted all over:—Since which he took refuge at Col. Gilbert's at Freetown. This morning about 200 men met at the Ware-Bridge, in this town, and after chosing a moderator, appointed a committee to warn the towns of Dighton, Swanley, Raynham, Norton, Mansfield, Attleborough, and Easton, to meet to-morrow, at 8 o'clock, when it is thought 2 or 3000 men will be assembled, from whence they are to proceed to Freetown, to wait on Col. Gilbert, and desire him not to accept of the office of High Sheriff under the present administration of the new laws, and that if he should he must abide by the consequences; also to desire Brigadier Ruggles to depart the county immediately.—Such is the spirit of this country——they seem to be quite awake and to have awoke in a passion. It is more dangerous being a Tory here than at Boston, even if no troops were there."

We learn from Plymouth, that such was the indignation of the people against their new made Counsellor, George Watson, Esq; that on Sunday fortnight, when he came into the house of public worship, a great number of the principal inhabitants of that town left the Meeting-house immediately upon his entering it; "being determined not to worship in fellowship with one, who has sworn to support that change of our constitution, which professedly establishes despotism among us."

A PROPOSAL from different parts of the country—It is proposed that an estimate should be formed by indifferent people of the value of all the real estates in Boston, that so, if the estates in it should be sunk in their value by the Port Bill's continuing to be enforced, or should otherwise be ruined by the rage of our common enemies, the country might be able to form a judgment of the retribution that should be made to the sufferers.—This does honour to the public virtue of our country.

The following is a true copy of a letter, said to be wrote by General Brattle, to the Commander in Chief, and pick'd up in this town last week, viz.

Cambridge, August 27*th*, 1774.

MR. Brattle presents his duty to Governor Gage. He apprehends it his duty to acquaint his Excellency from time to time with every thing he hears and knows to be true and is of importance in these troublesome times, which is the apology Mr. Brattle makes for troubling the General with this letter.

Capt. Minot of Concord, a very worthy man, this minute informed Mr. Brattle that there had repeatedly made pressing applications to him to warn his company to meet at one minute's warning, equipt with arms and ammunition, according to law, he had constantly denied them, adding if he did not grant them he should be constrained to quit his farms and town; Mr. Brattle told him he had better do that than lose his life and be hanged for a rebel; he observed that many Captains had done it, though not in the regiment to which he belonged, which was and is under Col. Elisha Jones, but in a neighbouring regiment.

Mr. Brattle begs leave humbly to Query, Whether it would not be best that there should not be one commission officer of the militia in the Province.

This morning the Select Men of Medford, came and received their town stock of powder, which was in the arsenal on Quarry-Hill, so that there is now therein, the King's powder only, which shall remain there as a sacred deposium till ordered out by the Captain General.

To his Excellency General Gage, &c. &c. &c.

ON Wednesday last the new Divan, consisting of the wretched fugitives with whom the just indignation of their respective townsmen by a well deserved expulsion, have filled this capital, usurped the seats round the Council Board in Boston. Their deliberations have not hitherto transpired: and with equal secrecy, on Thursday morning half after four, about 260 troops embarked on board 19 boats at the long wharf, and proceeded up Millic river to Temple's farm, where they landed, and went to the powder house on Quarry Hill in Charles-Town bounds, whence they have taken 250 half barrels of powder, the whole store there, and carried it to the castle.

A detachment from this corps went to Cambridge, and brought off two field pieces, which had lately been sent to Col. Brattle's regiment. The preparations for this scandalous expedition, caused much speculation as some who were near the Governor gave out that he had sworn, the Committee at Salem should recognize or be imprisoned; nay some said put on board the Scarborough and sent to England forthwith. The Committee of Boston sent off an express after ten on Wednesday evening, to advise their brethren of Salem of what they apprehended was coming against them, who received their message with great politeness, and returned an answer purporting their readiness to receive any attack they might be exposed to, for acting in pursuance to the laws and interest of their country, as became men and Christians.

From these several hostile appearances, the county of Middlesex took the alarm, and began to collect in large bodies with their arms, provisions and ammunition, determining by some means to give a check to a power which so openly threatened their destruction, and in such a clandestine manner robbed them of the means of their defence. And on Friday morning some thousands of them had advanced only to Cambridge armed only with sticks, as they had left their fire arms, &c. at some distance behind them. Some indeed had collected on Thursday evening, and surrounded the Attorney-General's house, who is also Judge of the Admiralty on the new plan for Nova-Scotia; and being provoked by the firing of a gun from a window, they broke some glass, but did no more mischief. The company however concerned in this, were mostly boys and negroes, who soon dispersed.

On perceiving the concourse on Friday morning, the Committee of Cambridge sent express to Charles-Town, who communicated the intelligence to Boston, and their respective Committees proceeded to Cambridge without delay. When the first of the Boston Committee came up, they found some thousands of people assembled round the Court House steps, and Judge Danforth standing upon them, speaking to the body, declaring in substance, that having now arrived at a very advanced age, and spent the greater part in the service of the public, it is a great mortification to him to find a step lately taken by him is disagreeable to his country, in which he conscientiously had meaned to serve them, but finding their general sense against his holding a seat at the Council Board on the new establishment, he assured them that he had resigned said office, and would never henceforth accept or act in any office inconsistent with the charter rights of his country; and in confirmation of said declaration, he delivered the following certificate drawn up by himself, and signed with his own hand, viz.

ALTHOUGH I have this day made an open declaration to a great concourse of people who assembled at Cambridge, that I had resigned my seat, at the Council Board, yet for the further satisfaction of all, I do hereby declare, under my hand, that such resignation has actually been made, and that it is my full purpose not to be any way concerned as a member of the Council, at any time hereafter.

Sept. 2*d*, 1774. S. DANFORTH.

A true Copy.

Attest. N. CUDWORTH, Clerk.

Judge Lee was also on the Court-House steps, and delivered his mind to the body in terms similar to those used by Judge Danforth, and delivered the following declaration, also drawn up and signed by him, viz.

Cambridge, 2*d Sept.* 1774.

AS great numbers of the inhabitants of the country are come into this town, since my satisfying those who were met, not only by declaration, but by reading to them what I have wrote to the Governor at my resignation, and being desirous to give the whole county and province full satisfaction in this matter, I hereby declare my resignation of a seat in the new constituted Council, and my determination to give no further attendance.

A true Copy, JOS. LEE.

Test. NATH. CUDWORTH, Clerk.

Upon this a vote was called for, to see if the body was satisfied with the declarations and resignations above said, and passed in the affirmative, nem. con.

It was then moved to know whether that body would signify their abhorrence of mobs, riots and the destruction of private property, and passed in the affirmative, nem. con.

Col. Phips, the High Sheriff of the county, then came before the Committee of the body, and complained that he had been hardly spoken of for the part he had acted, in delivering the powder in the Charles-Town magazine to the soldiery; which the Committee candidly considered, and reported to the body, that it was their opinion, the High Sheriff was excusable, as he had acted in conformity to his order from the commander in chief. Colonel Phips also delivered the following declaration by him subscribed, viz.

Colonel PHIPS's Answer to the honourable Body now in Meeting upon the Common, viz.

THAT I will not execute any precept that shall be sent me under the new acts of Parliament for the altering the constitution of the Massachusetts-Bay, and that I will recal all the venires that I have sent outunder the new establishment.

Cambridge, Sept. 2*d*, 1774. DAVID PHIPS.

A true Copy, Test. NATH. CUDWORTH, Clerk.

Which was accepted as satisfactory.

About 8 o'clock Honour Lieut. Governor Oliver set off from Cambridge to Boston, and informed Governor Gage of the true state of matters, and the business of the people; ———— which, as his Honour told the Admiral, were not a mad mob, but the freeholders of the county, promising to return in two hours, and confer with them on his own circumstances as President of the Council. On Mr. Oliver's return, he came to the Committee, and signified what he had delivered to the body in the morning, viz. that as the commissions of Lieut. Governor and President of the Council, seemed tacked together, he should undoubtedly incur his Majesty's displeasure if he resigned the latter, and pretended to hold the former; and nobody appeared to have any objection to his enjoying the place he held constitutionally, he begged he might not be pressed to incur that displeasure at the instance of a single county, while any other Counsellor held on the new establishment; assuring them however, that in case the mind of the whole province collected in Congress, or otherwise, appeared for his resignation, he would by no means act in opposition to it. This seemed satisfactory to the Committee, and they were preparing to deliver it to the body, when Commissioner Hallowell came through the town on his way to Boston: the sight of that obnoxious person so inflamed the people, that in a few minutes above 160 horsemen were drawn up, and proceeded in pursuit of him on full gallop. Captain Gardner of Cambridge first began a parley with one of the foremost, which caused them to halt till he delivered his mind very fully, in dissuasion of the pursuit, and was seconded by Mr. Deavans of Charles Town, and Doctor Young of Boston. They generally observed, that the object of the body's attention that day seemed to be the resignation of unconstitutional Counsellors, and that it might introduce confusion into the proceedings of the day if any thing else was brought upon the carpet till that important business was finished; and in a little time the gentlemen dismounted their horses and returned to the body.

But Mr. Hallowell did not entirely escape, as one gentleman of a small stature pushed on before the general body, and followed Hallowell, who made the best of his way till he got into Roxbury, where Mr. ——— overtook and stopped him in his chaise. Hallowell snapped his pistols at him, but could not disengage himself from him till he quitted the chaise and mounted his servant's horse, on which he drove into Boston with all the speed he could make, till the horse falling within the gate, he ran on foot to the camp, through which he spread consternation, telling them he was pursued by some thousands, who would be in town at his heels, and destroy all the friends of government before them.

A gentleman in Boston observing the motion in the camp, and concluding they were on the point of marching to Cambridge, from both ends of the town, communicated the alarm to Dr. Roberts then at Charles-Town ferry, who having a very fleet horse, brought the news in a few minutes to the Committee, then at dinner. The intelligence was instantly diffused, and the people whose arms were nearest sent persons to bring them, while horsemen were dispatched both ways, to gain more certain advice of the true state of the soldiery. A greater fervour and resolution probably never appeared among any troops. The dispatches soon returning, and assuring the body that the soldiers still remained, and were likely to remain in their camp, they resumed their business with spirit, and resolved to leave no unconstitutional officer within their reach in possession of his place. On this the Committee assembled again, and drew up the paper, of which the following is a copy, and at the head of the body delivered it to Lieut. Governor Oliver to sign, with which he complied, after obtaining their consent to add the latter clause explaining the force by which he was compelled to do it. Mr. Mason, Clerk of the county of Middlesex, also engaged in his office, to do nothing in obedience to the new acts of Parliament impairing our Charter.

Cambridge, Sept. 2d, 1774.

I THOMAS OLIVER, being appointed by his Majesty to a seat at the Council Board, upon and in conformity to the late act of Parliament, entitled, An act for the better regulation of the Massachusetts-Bay, which being a manifest infringement of the charter rights and privileges of this people; I do hereby in conformity to the commands of the body of this county now convened, most solemnly renounce and resign my seat at said unconstitutional Board, and hereby firmly promise and engage, as a man of honour and a Christian, that I never will hereafter upon any terms whatsoever accept a seat at said Board, on the present novel and oppressive plan of Government.

My house at Cambridge being surrounded by about four thousand people, in compliance with their commands I sign my name. THOMAS OLIVER.

The gentlemen from Boston, Charles-Town and Cambridge, having provided some refreshment for their greatly fatigued brethren, they chearfully accepted it, took leave and departed in high good humour, and well satisfied.

'Tis said an article deliberated upon by the DIVAN last Wednesday, was the disarming the town of Boston, and as much of the province as might be, to which sundry new Counsellors advised. Was this also for the good of your country, gentlemen!

Governor Gage has at length laid his hand on private property, so far as to deny one cask of powder to be delivered out of the powder house on any condition whatever.

On Saturday last 4 large field pieces were dragged by the soldiery, and placed at the only avenue by land to this city.

Same afternoon the Lively Frigate of 20 guns came to her moorings in the ferry way between Boston and Charles-Town.

Same evening the military watch consisting of 16 or 17 men, who patrol between Winisimit and Charles-Town ferries, laid hold on two women to abuse them; but on their crying out let them go again.—Insult upon insult.—

Yesterday the Canso came up as far as Gallows Bay, as she could find Water, with Intent to command the Neck.

"We are able to assure the public from good authority, that Isaac Winslow, Esquire, one of the lately appointed Counsellors, waited on Governor Gage last Monday, when he made an absolute and full resignation of his place at the Board; since which he has not appeared in Council, but given the strongest assurances that he never will act in that station; several of the most respectable gentlemen, who have appeared foremost in the cause of their country's liberties, have paid their compliments to him on account of his resignation."

We also have it from good authority, that last Saturday afternoon the Honourable Mr. Treasurer Gray, likewise resigned his seat at the Council Board.

Last Tuesday being the day the Superior-Court was to be holden here, the Chief Justice, Peter Oliver, Esq; and the other Justices of said court, together with a number of gentlemen of the bar, attended by the High and Deputy Sheriffs walked in procession from the State-house to the Court-house, in Queen street. When the Court was seated and the usual proclamations made, a list of the names of the gentlemen returned to serve as Grand Jurors, was presented to them, and the Court appointed Mr. Ebenezer Hancock, Foreman, but he refusing to be sworn, and the question being put to them all, severally, whether they will take the oath, they one and all refused;—and being asked whether they had any reasons to offer for their thus refusing; they answered they had, and that they were committed to writing; the Court requested to see them, but the Jurors refused giving the Court the original paper unless they were first permitted to read it in Court, or after reading, the Court would promise to return it to them again.

The Petit-Jurors were then called for, and a list of their names being handed down to the Court, they appointed Mr. Bartholomew Kneeland, Foreman, of the first jury, and Mr. Nathan Frazer, of the second. Mr. Kneeland had the oath proposed to him, which he declined taking, and being asked for what reasons, referred to a paper which he said, was drawn up, with their unanimous consent, and begged leave to read to the Court. The Court refused to hear the paper read, and the oath was proposed to each Juror in order, and declined as by the Foreman. Their reasons being demanded, they generally referred to the paper, 'till it came to the turn of Mr. Thomas Chace, who begged leave to read the paper then in his hand; but was told by the Chief Justice that he might give his own reasons without reading the paper; to which he agreed, and said that one of his reasons was, that Peter Oliver, Esq; Chief-Justice of that Court, stood impeached by the late hon. House of Representatives of that province, in their own name, and in the name of this province, of divers high crimes and misdemeanors.—Being asked by the Chief-Justice if he gave that as a reason, for his refusing to be sworn, he answered 'yes, that is one reason.' The Court then called upon another of the Petit-Jurors to be sworn, but he refused, and referred to the paper for his reasons, as aforesaid. The Chief-Justice then desired the Court might peruse the paper, which should be returned to the Jurors again; which was agreed to, read and returned. The Court then proposed the same condition to the Grand-Jury, which was complied with, and the contents delivered.

After the Court had read the papers, the Clerk of the Court, by order of the Chief-Justice, asked them seriatim, if they would be sworn, and every one refused. The Court said they would consider of their reasons, and the Juries withdrew. The Court then adjourned to 10 o'clock next day, when they met, exclusive of Mr. Oliver, and to the inexpressible grief of their fellow-citizens, went on to such business as is usually transacted, without Juries.

A Town-meeting was held by adjournment at Faneuil-hall, Tuesday last, and after liberty was voted for the laying out a Brick-yard for the employment of the Poor, the meeting was adjourned to Tuesday fortnight, in order to receive the report of a committee relative to filling up part of the Town-dock.

Town meetings, and county meetings, are now held and calling in all parts of the province, a provincial congress is like to be soon appointed.

The spirit of the people was never known to be so great since the first settlement of the colonies, as it is at this time. People in the country for hundreds of miles, are prepared and determined to "DIE or be FREE."

Extract of a letter from Leicester, August 25, 1774.

"Yesterday Mr. Paine, of Worcester, was visited by near 3000 people; notice was given of the intended visit the day before, from one town to another, though the warning was so short, the above number collected, and most of them entered the town before 7 o'clock in the morning; they all marched into the town in order, and drew up on the common, and behaved admirably well; they chose a committee of 2 or 3 men from each company to wait upon Mr. Paine, and demand a resignation of his office as Counsellor; that committee being large, they chose from among themselves a sub committee, who went to his house, where he agreed to resign that office, and drew up an acknowledgment, mentioning his obligation to the county for favours done him, his sorrow for taking the oath, and promise that he never would act in that office contrary to the charter; after which he came with the committee to the common, where the people were drawn up in two bodies, making a lane between them, through which the committee and he passed, and read divers times, as they passed along, the said acknowledgment; they then returned in a peaceable manner to their own homes, except about five hundred who repaired to Rutland, to demand the like promise from Col. Murray; when they arrived there, they were joined by about one thousand more from towns above, proceeding as they did at Worcester, in chusing a committee, who went to the house, and being admitted, enquired for Col. Murray; his sons informed them he was not at home, but set off for Boston the preceding evening; the committee made report to the company which did not give satisfaction, they insisted upon searching the house, which was thoroughly done, as also the barns, out-houses and stables, after which the committee wrote a letter to Col. Murray, informing him, that unless he resigned his office by the 10th of September next, and published such resignation in the Boston news papers, he would be waited upon again in his return home.

"The people in the country seem determined to oppose all officers holding commissions otherwise than our charter directs, and will, to the last extremity, oppose these unconstitutional acts, and prevent their being executed in this county. I heard there was a number marching to Hardwick, to visit the Brigadier the same day they went to Worcester and Rutland; but hearing he was not at home they dispersed."

SEPTEMBER 12.

Wednesday, General Gage, accompanied by Lord Percy, the Admiral, and other officers, critically surveyed the Mill-Creek, which divides the town.

All that compose the New Council, who have not resigned their seats at the Council Board, are in town.

Monday sailed the Scarborough man of war, with dispatches, for England.

We hear that 6000 men assembled at Worcester, on Monday and Friday last, and prevented the Inferior Court from sitting there.

Last Monday the Selectmen of this town waited on his Excellency Governor Gage, to acquaint him, that the inhabitants were much alarmed to find that he had ordered the breaking up the ground near the fortification, on the neck, and requesting that his Excellency would explain to them his design in that extraordinary movement, that they might thereby have it in their power to quiet the minds of the people.

When his Excellency replied to the following purpose. "That he had no intention of stopping up the avenue to the "town, or of obstructing the inhabitants, or any of the "country people coming in or going out of the town as "usual—That he had taken his measures, and that he was "to protect his Majesty's troops in this town; and that he had "no intention of any thing hostile against the inhabitants."

On Friday last the Select Men of this town again waited upon his Excellency the Governor, with the following Address, viz.

May it please your Excellency,

THE Select Men of this town, at the earnest desire of a number of Gentlemen of the town and country, again wait on your Excellency to acquaint you, that since our last application, the apprehensions of the people not only of this but of the neighbouring towns, are greatly encreased, by observing the design of erecting a fortress at the entrance of the town; and of reducing this metropolis in other respects, to the state of a garison.— This with complaints lately made, of abuse from some of the guards posted in that quarter, in assaulting and forcibly detaining several persons who were peaceably passing in and out of the town, may discourage the Market-people from coming in with their provisions as usual, and oblige the inhabitants to abandon the town.——This event we greatly deprecate, as it will produce miseries, which may hurry the province into acts of desperation.

We should therefore think ourselves happy, if we could satisfy the people, that your Excellency would suspend your design, and not add to the distresses of the inhabitants occasioned by the Port-Bill, that of garisoning the town. JOHN SCOLLAY, Chairman of the Select Men.

The GOVERNOR'S ANSWER.

Gentlemen,

WHEN you lately applied to me, respecting my ordering some cannon to be placed at the entrance of the town, which you term the erecting of a fortress; I so fully expressed my sentiments, that I thought you was satisfied the people had nothing to fear from that measure, as no use would be made thereof, unless their hostile proceedings should make it necessary; but as you have this day acquainted me, that your fears are rather encreased, I have thought proper to assure you, that I have no intention to prevent the free egress and regress of any person to and from the town, or of reducing it to the state of a garison, neither shall I suffer any under my command to injure the person or property of any of his Majesty's subjects. But as it is my duty, so it shall be my endeavour to preserve the peace, and promote the happiness of every individual; and I earnestly recommend to you and every inhabitant, to cultivate the same spirit—And heartily wish they may live quietly and happily in the town.

Boston, Sept. 9, 1774. THO. GAGE.

The town of Marblehead have agreed, that their regiment of militia shall turn out four times in a week, with arms and ammunition according to law, in order to perfect themselves in the military art.

Wednesday sailed the transports from this harbour, in order, as it is said, to fetch troops from Philadelphia and Quebec.

Since our last, four 24 pounders, and eight 9 pounders, have been transported from Castle-William to this town, and are now placed at the fortification.

Saturday last most of the 59th regiment marched from Salem to this place, and are now stationed on the neck at the entrance of the town; where great hostile preparations are making as though an enemy was approaching, when, it is thought by some, the greatest number is amongst ourselves.

SEPTEMBER 15.

Thirty chests of tea, which arrived last Week, in the Julius Cæsar, at Salem, is sent to Halifax.

Last night all the cannon in the North Battery were spiked up, it is said to be done by about 100 men (who came in boats) from the men of war in this harbour.

CHARLES-TOWN, OCTOBER 10.

LAST Thursday was held the Anniversary Meeting of "The Society for the Relief of the Widows and Orphans of the Clergy of the Church of England, when a Sermon, suitable to the Occasion, was preached, in St. Philip's Church, by the Rev. Robert Smith, and an Anthem, set to Music by Mr. Peter Valton, sung and played to universal Satisfaction. After Service, the Congregation presented a handsome Collection for the Charity.—The following Officers were elected for the ensuing Year, viz. His Honour the LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR, President; the Rev. ALEXANDER GARDEN, Vice-President; and the Rev. ROBERT SMITH, Treasurer and Secretary.

The Delegates to represent the Colony of North-Carolina in the Grand Continental Congress held in Philadelphia, arrived in that City the 12th of last Month: When GEORGIA was the only Colony, between Nova-Scotia and East-Florida, that remained unrepresented in the said Congress.

The Resignations, Recantations, Concessions, &c. of Counsellors, Justices, Lawyers, Clerks, Deputy-Sheriffs, Addressers, Protestors, &c. &c. &c. in New-England, are so numerous and frequent, that the Boston Printers declare, they cannot find Room for them in their Papers, altho' they publish a good many.

The Owners of Vessels in New-York, have refused to let them, to carry troops and military stores to Boston.

A REPORT, "That General Gage had actually begun to fortify the Town of Boston on the 6th of Sept. "that he had declared he would proceed in that Work, "to the Amount of 10,000 l. Sterling; that he had "seized a Quantity of Timber for that Purpose, belonging "to a Mr. Pierpoint; and that he would make Use of "the Provisions which the Bounty of the other Colonies "had thrown into the Granary there, if wanted,"—we hear, had like to have produced some Confusion; But the General's Answer to the Application of the Selectmen, quieted every thing again.

We have just received, via Georgia, the Pennsylvania Journals dated the 14th and 21st of September: which contain, besides the Advices already inserted in this Gazette, Nineteen most noble and manly resolutions, entered into at a Meeting of Delegates from every Town in the County of Suffolk, Massachusetts-Bay, on the 6th; together with an Address of the 9th, from that Body, to General Gage, which he, after having desired and obtained a private Copy, agreed to receive and answer on the 12th. It gives the Printer extreme Concern, that the present Circumstances of his Office, put it out of his Power to furnish his Readers with all the interesting Occurrences of the present Crisis, in the Order and with that Expedition which he could wish, and is always his Inclination to do; but he flatters himself that these Circumstances will soon alter: And though they prevent his publishing the above Pieces now, he hopes to insert them in his next.

In the mean Time, the Substance of the RESOLUTIONS are, That his Majesty King George III. is rightful Successor to the Throne of Great-Britain, justly entitled to the Allegiance of the British Realm, and, agreeable to Compact, of the English Colonies in America.—That it is their indispensable Duty, to maintain, defend, preserve, and hand down entire, to future Generations, those civil and religious Rights and Liberties, for which many of their Fathers fought, bled and died.—That the Blockade, Murder, and Charter-mutilating Acts, are gross Infractions of their Rights.—That therefore no Obedience is due to either or any Part of them.—That no Regard ought to be paid to Justices appointed or holding under the said Acts; being considered as unconstitutional Officers, and under undue Influence.—That if the Justices shall sit and act, Sheriffs, &c. &c. refusing Obedience to said Acts, be borne harmless; that Creditors be recommended to forbear, and Debtors pay as speedily as possible; and in some Cases to submit to Decisions by Arbitration, or be considered as co-operating with the Enemies of the Country.—That it be recommended to Collectors of of Taxes, to retain the public Monies in their Hands, till the civil Government be restored to its constitutional State, or a provincial Congress shall order another Disposition thereof.—That it be recommended to all Contra-Charter Counsellors, who have not already resigned, to do so by the 10th of September, or they shall be considered as obstinate and incorrigible Enemies to the Country.—That the fortifying of Boston Neck, Removal of Powder, and refusing to deliver what belongs to private Persons, is justly alarming, and gives Reason to apprehend hostile Intentions.—That establishing French Laws and the Roman Catholic Religion in Canada, is, in an extreme Degree, dangerous to Protestants, and therefore they are under an indispensable Obligation to take all proper Measures for their Security.—That therefore, and as it had been recommended to divest the present Militia Officers of their Commissions, it be recommended to the People, to learn the Art of War, with the utmost Diligence, under capable Persons, and for that Purpose to appear under Arms at least once every Week.—That during the present hostile Appearances on the Part of Great-Britain, they are determined to act merely upon the Defensive, while such Conduct can be vindicated, but no longer.—That in Case Persons who have rendered themselves conspicuous in contending for violated Rights, should be apprehended, it is recommended, to seize and keep in Custody every Servant of the present tyrannical and unconstitutional Government, till the Persons so apprehended be restored safe and uninjured to their Friends and Families.—That till their Rights are restored, all commercial Intercourse with Great-Britain, Ireland and the West-Indies, be withheld.—That the establishing of Arts and Manufactures, be promoted and encouraged.—That the Exigencies of public Affairs demanding, that a provincial Congress be held, to concert such Measures as may be adopted and vigorously executed by the whole People, it be recommended to the several Towns to chuse Members, to attend the said Congress, to be holden in the Town of Concord, on the second Tuesday in October.—That due Respect and Submission to such Measures as shall be recommended by the Continental Congress sitting in Philadelphia.—That all Routs, Riots, and licentious Attacks upon private Property, be discountenanced.—And That, should any sudden Manœuvres render it necessary to ask Aid and Assistance, it shall be done by Couriers dispatched from Town to Town with written Messages from Select or Committee-Men.

The Substance of the ADDRESS is, to represent to General Gage, that the people are greatly and justly alarmed, by the dangerous Design of repairing and manning the Fortification at the South Entrance of the Town of Boston, which completed, may reduce the Inhabitants to the most ignominious State of Humiliation and Vassalage, by intercepting the wonted Intercourse between that Town and the Country, upon which they are chiefly dependant for Supplies of Provisions. They therefore entreat, that he will desist from his Design; assuring him, they are by no Means disposed to injure His Majesty's Troops; that they think themselves aggrieved by the late Acts of Parliament, which they are resolved never to submit to; but have no Inclination commence a War with the King's Troops: That the Ferment now excited in the Minds of the People, is occasioned by some late Transactions, by seizing the Powder in the Arsenal at Charles-Town; by withholding Powder lodged in the Magazine at Boston from the legal Proprietors; by Insults, Abuses, and Menaces from the Soldiery, encouraged by some of their Officers; and more particularly by fortifying the sole Avenue by Land to the Town of Boston. And they conclude, by assuring his Excellency, that nothing less than an immediate Removal of the Ordnance, restoring the Entrance into that Town, to its former State, and an actual Stop of all Insults and Alarms in future, can place the Inhatants of that County in a State of Tranquillity.

PHILADELPHIA.

Charles-Town, Sept. 26, 1774.

To the worthy Families, Deſcendants of the French Proteſtants, formerly Inhabitants of this Town; the Zeal and Piety of whoſe Anceſtors built the FRENCH CHURCH, yet ſtanding.

PETER LEVRIER,

PRESENT Paſtor of the ſaid Church, obſerving, with infinite Regret, its great Decay and almoſt utter Diſſolution, owing as he ſuppoſes, to the general Diſuſe of the French Tongue; deſirous that a Church which formerly ſo diſtinguiſhed itſelf for its exemplary Piety and Zeal, ſhould not loſe its Exiſtence, and at the ſame Time willing to contribute his Part to the Welfare of his Fellow Men, takes this Liberty to offer his Service to the Deſcendants of the French Refugees, and to as many others as ſhall employ him, to inſtruct their Children in the moſt complete Manner in the FRENCH LANGUAGE.

He thinks it almoſt uſeleſs to hint to the Public, the great Utility of the French Tongue in the preſent Age; its Importance to thoſe who travel, its Advantage in Trade, its Uſe to Men of extenſive Reading. The Importance of keeping up this Language, and eſpecially a French Church, in ſuch a populous and growing Place, where many Strangers will always reſort, and in Proceſs of Time many French Proteſtants be caſt, muſt appear to all. Such a Church, properly attended, would not only anſwer the Ends of the Goſpel of our Lord, but be a conſtant School for Youth, in that moſt profitable Language. He thinks that it ought eſpecially to be agreeable to thoſe whoſe Anceſtors bravely encountered all the Hardſhips of Flight into a Wilderneſs, to ſerve their God with Simplicity; to do their Part to preſerve in Being a Church erected by their pious Fathers, and to perpetuate this Monument of their Fortitude and Zeal. It was here that God gave them Reſt, and accompliſhed for them the Prophecy of Ezekiel, "Although I have caſt them far off among the Heathen, and although I have ſcattered them among the Countries, yet will I be to them as a little Sanctuary in the Countries where they ſhall come."

By applying to Mr. LEVRIER for his Propoſals, any Perſon will be convinced that he is more actuated by a View to the Public Good, than to his own private Intereſt; and he truſts that the Method which he ſhall purſue, will be ſuch, as to give his Pupils the beſt Advantage to make a rapid Progreſs in the Knowledge of that polite and elegant Language.
